Data's a key component to the Atlanta Commercial Board of REALTORS' offerings, and the board has made access to comps and other information a little easier and a little cheaper through a joint venture with Alan Wexler's DataBank Atlanta.

With the partnership, ACBR members can access DataBank's 50 years' of Atlanta information on 10,000 properties at a discounted, a la carte rate. Wexler's been working with the board for years and, working with the board and board President Alan Joel, finally brought the project to fruition, with service starting last week.

"We're looking at this as a major breakthrough for members who want to obtain data on an as-needed basis," said Joel, who's also a principal at Joel & Granot Commercial Real Estate.
